WATER SCREENS WATER CURTAINS

Indoors or out

GENIUS LASER TECHNOLOGY

Water screens:

Water screens are a fantastic visual medium which have the ability to appear out of thin air and produce spectacular results. Water screens spray a wall of water as high as 30M and as wide as 60M into the air to produce a spherical projection surface. Lasers, video projection and lighting can be used to rear project onto the tiny droplets of water and produce images logos and animations that appear to float in space.

Water Curtains:

Water curtains have a similar effect to water screens the difference being that they produce a wall of water which falls from the ceiling to the ground. Water curtains can be used indoors or out and have the ability to run in locations where an endless supply of water isn't available. The water curtain can be used indoors with a recycling system that reuses the water. Water curtains produce a great visual aspect to any event and can be rear projected with Laser, lighting and Video projection.
